

Dear Tom,

I began watching The Way of the Master on television 2 1/2 years ago. I was instantly caught up in the simplicity and sound Biblical truth of this evangelism method, and I thought, "I can do this!!!" I realized that to be effective, I'd need to learn the WDJD steps, supporting Scripture, and get some tracts, and learn how to use them. In June of 2006, I attended the Saturday seminar program, and my life, and my witnessing life, have never been the same.

What did I do for witnessing between 2004 and 2006? Very little, I'm ashamed to say. I struggled. I was frustrated. I just couldn't seem to open my mouth and share my heart with unbelievers the way I knew God commanded me to, and when I did speak up, I wasn't effective. I worried about offending someone, or worse, not having just the right Bible verse to challenge their objections. I ended up laying in a supply of "The 4 Spiritual Laws" tracts, and begging my friends to read them. I now realize it was all about me and how I was or, more likely, wasn't going to get someone to pray the sinner's prayer.

The Way of the Master evangelizing method has changed me personally, deep in my heart, and changed my witness. I now have such deep love, the love of Christ, for the lost. Jesus told us to love our neighbors as ourselves. Because nothing is more important than one's salvation, I'm now so concerned about the eternal destiny of literally everyone, my family, my friends, and each person the Lord brings into my life. Now, I do not hesitate to speak up, remembering always that "The Law is perfect, converting the soul." PS 19:7. I'm simply sowing the seed in love, and God is doing the rest. I've never had so much fun nor felt such genuine joy sharing my faith and reaching out to the perishing. The Glory belongs to the Lord! I thank and praise Him always for He has made me glad!

Sincerely,

Joy Preston
