

Hey Tom, & Catherine,

I enjoyed the seminar very much. I've been thinking I don't want to be a useless Christian anymore. I don't want to be idle and isolated. I want to be used and molded by God, I have been praying for the opportunity to learn. I usually leave church when church is over and not even socialize, besides we really didn't have the opportunity.(until we came to Living Streams Church) My problem was that I didn't care, I didn't want open up, and I didn't care what they thought of me: all because of my red glassy eyes from smoking weed. Through time I noticed, some Christians loved me as a I was, and some gave me that look of disapproval, like I shouldn't be in church. Those who loved me drew me to want be a better person, and I decided to be a better example to my son. I know he's watching me and he tells me "you say you're Christian but you do this and that. You're not going to Heaven." I know I was ignoring him and listening to the lies like do your own thing, and you don't need those people anyway. I've been listening to KPXQ1360am station everyday at work for the last year, and watching Charles Stanley, John Hagee, and Jesse Duplantis. I'm drawn to the love of Christ. I don't want to continue on this path of destruction and stupidity which is hell.

On my way home from Tempe Saturday night, I stopped at Whataburger and gave a tip with a track from the sample pack. Then at Wendy's I left one with the guy taking money, and the guy giving food. I had to get some chicken nuggets for my son, & the burger was for me. Thank you Tom for listening to God's calling. Thanks to Kirk and Ray. What a blessing!!!

Vina, R